

R.M. VAUGHAN
THE EXHIBITIONIST
rmvaughan@compatico.ca

AT OTHER VENUES

Face It Head On: Self-Portrait Redefined

Until Nov. 23, Workson Arts Building, 65 J. Dufferin St., Lower Mall, Toronto

In partnership with the Kendrews With Madness Film Festival, this group show highlights artists who recreate themselves in as many ways as there are to be human.

Pearl Van Geest and Tina Newlove

Until Nov. 27, REKE Gallery, 624 Richmond St. W., Toronto

If these two very different painters have anything in common, it's their unspectacular love of texture - their smart attention to the way paint caresses, kicks and kisses canvas.

Jenni Postl: Stay at Home

Until Nov. 14, Gallery 1313, 1313 Queen St. W., Toronto

Postl's collation of quilting patterns and paintings of hospitalized mothers with their newborns is both unsettling and comforting - much, I imagine, like giving birth itself.

R.M. Vaughan